WHAT ARE OLFACTIVE FAMILIES?

The olfactory family defines the fragrance by the predominant olfactory notes.

It is possible to recognize the personality of the fragrance according to its characteristics. They can be woody, floral, oriental, fresh, among others.

OLFACTIVE PYRAMID

The olfactory pyramid is a simple way to highlight the main olfactory notes of the fragrance.

Top notes:

These are the notes that are felt first, but they are also the ones that evaporate the fastest. They are lighter notes, of lower molecular weight and more volatile.

Heart note:

With a slightly higher molecular weight and which stand out more clearly, they represent the evolution of the perfume after the fragrance has been applied to the skin. It is usually the notes that give the perfume its personality.

Base note:

These are the notes that last much longer on the skin. They are formed by raw materials of great tenacity. It is the densest aroma that is felt for the longest time on the skin.

IMPORTANT NOTES

Recognizing a good perfume is not just about smelling it and testing it on your skin.

The fragrance's durability is prolonged by the characteristic of your skin. The drier the skin, the faster the scent will evaporate. It is important to keep your skin hydrated to ensure the perfume lasts longer.

Vegas Cosmetics perfumes go through a maceration process where it is possible to obtain high quality fragrances. Vegas' intensity line is the Eau de Parfum with a concentration of 18 to 20% essential oil, the second highest on the market.
